

For Freckled, Rough or Spotty Complexions

The freckling, discoloring or roughening to which delicate skins are subject after exposure to wind or sun, often appearing in early spring, may be removed by the use of Musterole. It is a pure, white, cream-like substance, which is very effective in removing the freckles and spots. It is also a good skin conditioner, and keeps the skin soft and smooth. It is sold in small bottles at all drug stores.

DAILY TRAINS FROM TULSA TO OILTON

Oilton, Okla., March 16.—A "coal oil" train is to be put into service with the completion of the Oil Belt Terminal railroad into Oilton from Jennings, making the round trip daily from Tulsa to Oilton and taking the place in great part of the oil trains for passengers now being run out of Tulsa by the Katy. It will be run via Frisco and Oil Belt Terminal. The Frisco will establish an up-town ticket and business office in Jennings, with Western Union up-town telegraph office. All these arrangements have been completed. Beginning today a Frisco train will run into Jennings daily, making connection with all trains east and west from Tulsa, Pawnee, Enid and other points.

GEM PROGRAM

Tuesday, March 16.

Episode Thirteen of "The Master Key" in which Wilkerson recovers the idol after killing all but one of the Hindu priests. Ruth, Dore and Sir Donald have narrow escape from an enraged native mob. See King Bagrot in the intense 2-reel lamp drama, "An Oriental Romance." Here's a new sort of play, and all you lovers of good acting and admirers of handsome King Bagrot in particular, have a marvelous treat in store. A college bred Chinaman and a sweet American girl are the central figures in a plot that calls for a noble self-sacrifice—but you must see it. The rich, Oriental settings, the intense human interest, the love theme and the strange plot make this too good a play to miss.

"How Dr. Cupid Won" Dr. Cupid runs down the girl he loves and takes her to his hospital for treatment. Detective Plotz surrounds the hospital with police. A merry chase follows. The pursuers are cut off by a freight train, giving the fugitives a chance to get married. Nestor comedy.

Wednesday, March 17.

"The Laugh That Died." Dick and Carlotta are happy until they meet the cutthroat padrone, covers Carlotta. Regi and his hand abduct Carlotta for ransom. When Dick comes to her rescue he is attacked and badly wounded. Carlotta holds the gang at bay until the police arrive, with Mary Fuller. Victor drama.

MANY FALL BY WAY IN OIL GAME

"GETTING BY" IS FREQUENTLY A HAZARDOUS UNDERTAKING

Oilton, Okla., March 16.—"Flirting with the penitentiary is what I have always called it, and it beats the band how many fellows will do it in the oil game and how many of them will get by with it. There was a producer, now one of prominence, who had his last cent spend in addition to all that he could borrow to get hold of in any way. The hole he was drilling was down to where the oil sand should be encountered, but it had not been found. There was just coal enough on the ground to run until morning and he told his boys to keep working. He had his grip packed, ready to beat it quickly if the morning showed no traces of oil. A little while before dawn a shout went up; a gusher was brought in."

The speaker was Jud Hoskins, perhaps the best posted workman in the near-by field at the present time. Employed for many years in the various fields of the United States, including practically every field in this state, he has come in contact with the inside workings and the secrets of many men, now prominent in Oklahoma and elsewhere in the oil game. He says the man above referred to, is now a prominent Oklahoman.

"And there was that other producer," continued Hoskins, "who ran out of both money and credit before he had his well nearly completed. He had refused a good sized piece of money for the property, believing he would make a strike. With the hole two-thirds completed, he ran out of casing. Summoning several teamsters, he directed them to the yards of a big supply company and there he superintended the loading of the casing that he needed so much. The teamsters believed, of course, that he had bought the material and obeyed him. He used the casing, brought in a well, sold out his property for $100,000 and then went to the supply company and paid them for the casing. It was the first that they knew that the casing was missing."

And then, there is that other prominent producer, of whom the story is told that he ran out of money after sinking several dry ones. He also had a partially completed hole and needed funds. Going to a small town bank he borrowed the money he needed and gave as security a herd of certain cattle on a certain ranch. The hole was completed and he got a good producer. Returning to the bank he paid off the loan and then said:

"You don't know how narrow an escape you ran in getting your money."

"Yes," answered the banker, "but the cattle were good for it."

"That's so," replied the oil man with a smile, "but there were no cattle."

HOBBOES TO DECIDE ON HOW'S LEGACY

St. Louis, March 16.—Those whom James Eads How, the millionaire welfare worker, calls "casual workers" will decide how he shall dispose of the $250,000 legacy left him by his mother, whose will was filed here recently. This was announced by Mr. How, today.

At the national convention of the Brotherhood Welfare Association, which is composed of "casual laborers," How will submit a plan by which groups of the brotherhood in various cities may vote on the disposition of his new fortune. The national convention will meet in Baltimore on April 19.

How suggested that the "casual workers" may decide to use part of the money to establish a newspaper or that they may decide to build hotels in various cities where the unemployed may find cheap lodging while looking for work.

HOW HE QUIT TOBACCO

This veteran, S. B. Lamphere, was addicted to the excessive use of tobacco for many years. He wanted to quit, but wanted something to help him. He learned of a free book that tells about tobacco habit and how to conquer it quickly, easily and safely. In a recent letter he writes: "I have no desire for tobacco any more. I feel like a new man."

REPAIRING FOR WAR IN ITALY

POSTAL SERVICE AND MONEY ORDERS CUT OFF FROM AUSTRIA

Rome, March 16.—According to a dispatch from Vienna to the Marsagrero, Emperor Francis Joseph today had an extended conversation with Gen. Ritter Von Krobantin, the Austro-Hungarian minister of war, on the subject of the defense of the dual monarchy on the Italian frontier.

The Italian minister of posts and telegraphs today issued orders suspending the exchange of telegraphic money orders with Austro-Hungary. Orders also were issued suppressing the traveling postoffices on trains bound for the Austrian frontier.

This afternoon a gathering of Republicans attempted to hold a meeting in honor of the patriotic and revolutionary Massini. Grenadiers with fixed bayonets caused them to disperse, whereupon the crowd cried "Down with Austria!" The demonstrators then made their way to the Ghibaldi statue, where a number of fiery speeches criticizing Germany and expressing sympathy with Belgium were delivered.

SOLOMON IS FIRED BY ASSEMBLY

A COLORADO LEGISLATOR, CHARGED WITH PERJURY, EXPELLED FROM HOUSE

Denver, March 16.—The Colorado house of representatives expelled W. W. Howland of Denver on charges of perjury. Howland, who was arrested Saturday night on information filed by District Attorney John A. Rush charging perjury, still was in jail in default of $2,000 bail at the time his membership in the general assembly was terminated.

The house unanimously adopted the report of the special committee, which investigated charges that Howland received a package of money sent to him in the house chamber February 9, and acted upon a resolution of expulsion presented by Speaker P. B. Stewart, who headed the committee.

The committee was then continued for further investigation at its request.

The county grand jury continued its inquiry to determine whether indictments should be returned in connection with the Howland affair.

At the first session of the special committee, Howland testified the package contained $15 in currency, the proceeds of a business transaction.

At a subsequent hearing, Howland testified the money came from Dr. Mary Bates and was to pay a woman detective for work in shadowing John S. Phillips, probation officer, for the juvenile court. At the present time four bills, designed to abolish the juvenile court, over which Judge Ben B. Lindsey presides, are pending in the house.

$6,500 IN PURSES AT AUTO RACES

Oklahoma City, Okla., March 16.—Purses aggregating $6,500 have been offered for two automobile road races and one motorcycle race, to be held here April 20 and 22, under the auspices of the Southwest Auto Racing association, a corporation composed of leading business men, and the sanction of the American Automobile association.

A "double-header" event is scheduled for April 20. This will be a 99-mile automobile road race for Oklahoma cars and drivers, and a 150-mile motorcycle race which is a free-for-all, and in which the fastest and most daring riders in the country have promised to compete. A $1,000 purse is offered for the auto race and $500 for the two-wheeled event.

On April 22, which is the twenty-sixth anniversary of the opening of Oklahoma, the greatest pilots and fastest cars in the United States are expected to compete in the 200-mile auto race for the $5,000 purse.

The holding of these road races entail an enormous expense. In addition to the purses, for an amusement feature, Circus seats to accommodate 15,000 persons will be obtained from Kansas City, while $4,000 will be spent in repairing the roads and banking the turns over which the races will be held. The course is of asphalt and dirt and is 2,400 miles to the lap. This will make it very interesting from a spectator's standpoint, since the cars will make 41 laps in the short race and 83 in the long grind.

Dick Carhart, president of the racing association, has gone to California in an endeavor to sign up Barney Oldfield, Louis Diabrow, Darius Rosta, Earl Cooper, Ralph De Palma, Bob Burman, and other speedsters, for the big race. Some of them have already signified their intention of being here. Entry blanks and other information can be obtained from Manager George W. Woods, 529 Lee building.

NOW FORDING THE CIMARRON WITH SUPPLIES

Oilton, Okla., March 15.—Teamsters and freighters are now fording the Cimarron river at the railroad bridge here, the first time this has been possible since the continued rains began several weeks ago. At this point there is a good ford that permits the heaviest loads of oil field supplies to be taken across.

Accidents will happen, but the best regulated families keep Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil for such emergencies. Two sizes 25 and 50c at all stores.

GUTIERREZ LEADS A BIG ARMY

PROCLAIMS HIMSELF CHIEF OF NATION'S OFFICIAL GOVERNMENT

Washington, D. C., March 16.—A new Mexican "confidential agency" was set up in Washington Monday to rival the Carranza and Villa establishments and bring prominently before the American government an element in the complicated situation before the Rio Grande, to which so far scant attention has been paid. Bose Vasconcelos is in charge and he represents Eulalio Gutierrez, who is said to be at the head of an independent movement in central Mexico, backed by some forty thousand soldiers.

Gutierrez was elected provisional president of Mexico by the Aguas Calientes convention and for a brief period was ruler in Mexico City. Vasconcelos, who was minister of public instruction in his cabinet, reached here Monday after an exciting journey and went directly to the state department to lay the object of the Gutierrez campaign before Leon Canova, chief of the Mexican division of the Latin-American bureau.

This was, he said, the reassembling of the legally chosen delegates of the Aguas Calientes convention for the selection of a provisional president.

Vasconcelos' story was the first chronological account which state department officials have received of

WHEN YOU WASH YOUR HAIR DON'T USE SOAP

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain unsifted coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless, it's very cheap, and beats soap or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust and dandruff.

the Gutierrez expression after its departure from Mexico City.

"It is true," he said, "that General Gutierrez when provisional president in Mexico City deposed both Villa and Zapata from their commands on February 17. Villa was angered at this and ordered the imprisonment of Gutierrez and his cabinet. This forced them to abandon the capital with 3,000 loyal followers including General Robles, minister of war; General Lucio Blanco, minister of the interior and myself."
